

Julie Sivigny

---

From: Julie Sivigny [jsivigny@fau.edu]
Sent: Friday, September 17, 2010 12:55 PM
To: 'Dr. Azzarolo'; Dr. Brew (kbrew@fau.edu); 'Dr. Caputi'; 'Dr. Huang'; 'Dr. Louda'; 'Dr. Nouri-Shirazi'; Dr. Shen; Dr. Shibata
Subject: FW: Responsible Conduct of Research Workshops + mentoring guideline development

The Graduate College and Division of Research are conducting a series of 4 workshops for research students (see info below).

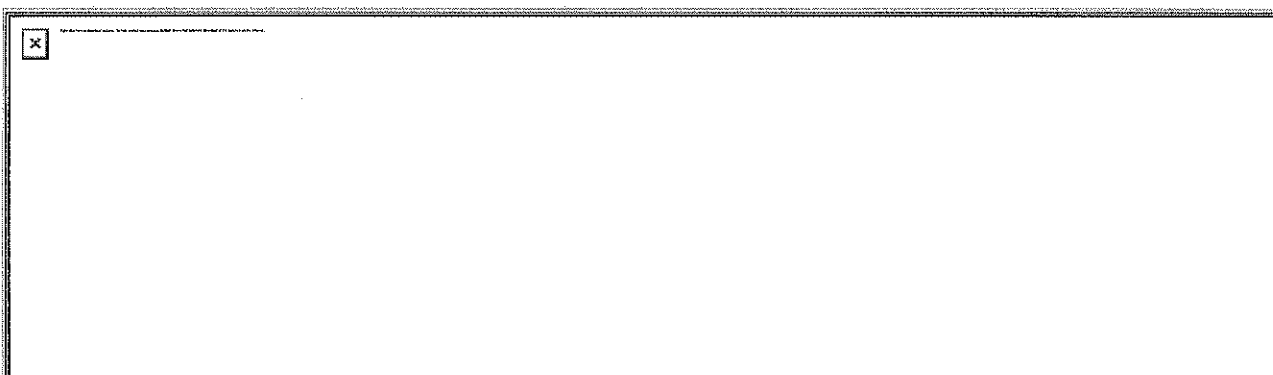

Perhaps this is something to include in the mentoring guidelines the Graduate Program Committee is developing - required attendance at these workshops for all research students as a condition of 'satisfactory' completion of their course? Then it's documented that the info has been conveyed to students and the information is standardized across all labs/faculty (and would save faculty some effort).

Something to consider?

Julie A. Sivigny
Academic Program Specialist
Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine
Florida Atlantic University
(561) 297-2216

---

From: Florida Atlantic University Graduate School mailto:[graduateschool@fau.edu]
Sent: Friday, September 17, 2010 11:57 AM
To: jsivigny@fau.edu
Subject: RCR Workshop - there is still time to register

Dear Julie,

The Responsible Conduct of Research is an important facet of graduate education. The Graduate College, in partnership with the Division of Research, is pleased to announce a series of four workshops on the Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) to all currently-enrolled graduate students at FAU. All graduate students engaged in active research at FAU are strongly encouraged to attend. There is no fee to attend. The workshops will be led by FAU faculty and staff, and will include case studies and discussion for audience participation. Refreshments will be provided for workshop participants.

Class sizes are limited and advance reservations are required. For your convenience, the workshops will be offered both in the morning and early evening. Reservations for the first workshop, Conflict of Interest*, can be made below:

Conflict of Interest. This workshop will be offered twice:

1. Tuesday, September 21, 2010, 9:00 a.m. - 10:50 a.m.
College of Education Building, Room 124 (ED 124)
Boca Raton campus RSVP

2. Tuesday, September 21, 2010, 7:00 p.m - 9:00 p.m.
Fleming Hall, Room 427 (FL 427)
Boca Raton campus RSVP

This workshop may be videocast at Davie, Jupiter, and Harbor Branch campuses based on demand. Please indicate which campus you would like to participate from registering.

For planning purposes, please register your attendance by Friday, September 17, 2010.

*Conflict of Interest workshop description:

Given the numerous outside interests and interactions faculty and staff engage in, the potential for conflict is common. This workshop will help participants recognize situations which create the potential for conflict, both conflict of financial interest and conflict of commitment. Once defined, the workshop will address how to manage the conflict so as to protect all involved parties.

For further information about any of the RCR workshops, please contact Kristine Killip at (561) 297 -3911 or Elisa Gaucher at (561) 297-2318.

We look forward to seeing you at the workshops.

Sincerely,

The Graduate College
Florida Atlantic University
SU 80, Room 101
777 Glades Road
Boca Raton, FL 33431
(561) 297-3624

here

Julie Sivigny

---

From: Julie Sivigny [jsivigny@fau.edu]
Sent: Thursday, October 21, 2010 3:08 PM
Subject: responsible conduct of research workshop for students 10/26
Attachments: 0811_0001.pdf

Please encourage your students to attend.

The Graduate College and Division of Research are hosting workshops for graduate students on the responsible conduct of research. The next workshop is Tuesday October 26th on Data Management Practices, Research Misconduct & Collaborative Research. Please see attached flyer for information or RSVP at <http://www.fau.edu/graduate/RCR/>.

Julie A. Sivigny
Academic Program Specialist
Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine
Florida Atlantic University
(561) 297-2216

Julie Sivigny

---

From: Julie Sivigny [jsivigny@fau.edu]
Sent: Thursday, October 21, 2010 3:42 PM
To: 'kkillip@fau.edu'
Subject: research workshop for students - attendance?

Hi Kristine,

At today's AAC meeting the workshop attendance was discussed. I was wondering if you could provide attendance information? Our Graduate Program Committee has been working on mentoring guidelines and these workshops feed into this initiative and it would be useful to see how many of our students actually attended.

IB PhD students

MS Biomedical Science students – thesis & non-thesis

Is this attendance information available?

Thank you.

Julie A. Sivigny
Academic Program Specialist
Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine
Florida Atlantic University
(561) 297-2216

---

From: Julie Sivigny [mailto:jsivigny@fau.edu]
Sent: Thursday, October 21, 2010 3:08 PM
Subject: responsible conduct of research workshop for students 10/26

Please encourage your students to attend.

The Graduate College and Division of Research are hosting workshops for graduate students on the responsible conduct of research. The next workshop is Tuesday October 26th on Data Management Practices, Research Misconduct & Collaborative Research. Please see attached flyer for information or RSVP at <http://www.fau.edu/graduate/RCR/>.

Julie A. Sivigny
Academic Program Specialist
Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine
Florida Atlantic University
(561) 297-2216

Julie Sivigny

---

From: Julie Sivigny [jsivigny@fau.edu]
Sent: Thursday, February 17, 2011 5:04 PM
Subject: responsible conduct of research spring workshops
Attachments: RCR Workshops Spring 2011.pdf

Currently-enrolled graduate students at FAU are invited to attend professional development workshops based on the instructional topics for the Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR). All graduate students engaged in active research at FAU are strongly encouraged to attend the workshop series. Workshops are led by FAU faculty and will include case studies and discussion for audience participation. There is no fee to attend. Students who attend all 4 workshops will receive a certificate of completion.

Attached is an electronic version of the Responsible Conduct of Research (RCR) workshop flyer. The RSVP links in this PDF document are active registration links.

For additional information on RCR, please visit this website:
<http://www.fau.edu/graduate/currentstudents/rcr/index.php>.

Should you have any questions regarding the workshop series, please contact Elisa Gaucher, Director of Research Integrity, at egaucher@fau.edu, or Kristine Killip, Assistant Director Graduate Student Support - Graduate College at killip@fau.edu.

*Julie A. Sivigny
Academic Program Specialist
Charles E. Schmidt College of Medicine
Florida Atlantic University
(561) 297-2216*