Boca Raton Campus

Help us honor Florida Atlantic University's international students, exchange scholars, and returning study abroad students

International Education Week (www.iew.state.gov) celebrates international education and study abroad and global exchange activities at universities across the U.S. FAU supports these efforts through the creation of strong overseas learning opportunities and by welcoming international students and scholars to our campus communities. This event is co-hosted by the Office of International Programs & Office of International Student and Scholar Services.
